THE PURANIC FOUNDATION OF VISHNU SANCTUMS IN KASHI

KASHI KHAND • CHAPTER 60, SHLOKA 112

यो मां पश्यति काश्यां वै विन्ते मुक्तिमुत्तमाम् ।
बिन्दुमाधवनामानं सर्वपापप्रणाशनम् ॥

"Whoever has my darshan in holy Kashi in the form of Bindu Madhav, the destroyer of all sins, attains the supreme liberation (Mukti) without doubt."

The Primordial Advent of Lord Vishnu at Adi Keshav

According to chapters 58 to 61 of the Kashi Khand, when Lord Shiva dispatched various deities to inspect Kashi during the reign of King Divodas, Lord Vishnu arrived at the northern confluence of the holy rivers Varuna and Ganga (Varuna Sangam). Stepping into the holy soil, he washed his divine lotus feet at what became renowned as Padodak Teerth, establishing the celebrated sanctum of Adi Keshav.

The Legend of Sage Bindu and Bindu Madhav

At Panchganga Ghat (where five sacred rivers invisibly merge: Ganga, Yamuna, Saraswati, Kirana, and Dhutapapa), a devout ascetic named Sage Bindu performed rigorous penance for thousands of years. Pleased with his unwavering devotion, Lord Vishnu manifested before him in a radiant four-armed form holding the Conch (Shankha), Discus (Chakra), Mace (Gada), and Lotus (Padma).

Lord Vishnu granted Sage Bindu his boon that he would reside eternally at this spot under the name Bindu Madhav, acting as the supreme protector and spiritual heart of Varanasi. Devotees who bathe at Panchganga Ghat and worship Bindu Madhav receive the merit of all Vaishnava pilgrimages across Bharat.

The Defensive Citadels: Narasimha and Varaha Avatars

To protect Avimukta Kshetra from negative astral energies and demonic elements, Lord Vishnu manifested in multiple fierce defensive half-lion aspects (Prachand, Atyugra, Vidar, Kolahal, Mahabal, Vitank, and Lakshmi Narasimha) and boar incarnations (Yagya Varaha, Tamra Varaha, Koka Varaha, and Dharani Varaha) guarding the sacred ghats and internal quarters of the city.

class="art-PostContent"> BINDU MADHAV

As per directions of Lord Shiva, Lord Vishnu travelled from Mandarachal to Kashi with a divine mission of making King Divodas leave Kashi (Kindly read Divodaseshwar).

After having accomplished his mission, Lord Vishnu was enjoying the serene beauty of Kashi, Pancha Nada Teerth, Padodak Teerth and other places. At Pancha Nada Teerth, he came across one extremely lean looking Sage who was undergoing Tapas.

Lord Vishnu in his divine form approached the Sage whose name was Agni Bindu and stood in front of him. The Sage, on seeing the Lord in person, was ecstatic and he prostrated before the Lord. The Sage then started singing praises of the Lord.

The Sage addressed the Lord by various names like Mukunda, Madusudan, Madhav, Narayan, Rama Bhadran, Chatur Bhuj, Janardhan etc. The Sage also mentioned that those who worship Lord Vishnu with Tulsi leaves or garland made of Tulsi Leaves will get lots of blessings.

After having sung all praises about Lord Vishnu, Agni Bindu Rishi stood silently with folded hands. Lord Vishnu asked the Sage to seek any divine boon. The Sage, in reply, sought only one thing: that Lord Vishnu should always be available in the vicinity of Pancha Nada Teerth.

Lord Vishnu granted accordingly. He further stated that Kashi is a Punya Kshetra and devotees can achieve several kinds of Siddhi by staying in Kashi. Lord Vishnu further told that he would stay in Kashi as long as Kashi is present and there will be no destruction of Kashi, as this holy city is situated atop the Trishul (Trident) of Lord Shiva. Therefore, even Maha Pralay (great deluge) cannot destroy the city.

Agni Bindu Rishi was extremely happy at this and sought one more divine boon from Lord Vishnu. He desired that Lord Vishnu should always be available in the vicinity of Pancha Nada Teerth in the name of the Sage. Further, a devotee who takes bath in Pancha Nada Teerth and even if he dies elsewhere, he should attain Moksha. The Sage also sought that a devotee who bathes in Pacha Nada Teerth and worships Lord Vishnu should be blessed with wealth and prosperity.

Lord Vishnu agreed to the request of the Sage. He stated that henceforth he (Lord) will be known as Bindu Madhav in Pancha Nada Teerth. By his presence, the Teerth will be extremely Sacred and devotees who bathe in this Teerth and honour learned persons, will be blessed with wealth and prosperity.

The Teerth, which is capable of cleansing all Sins, will be called as Bindu Teerth. A person may have committed various sins, knowingly or unknowingly. But if, during the Kartik Month, he religiously bathes in Pancha Nada Teerth and worships Bindu Madhav, he will attain Mukti.

Kashi Khand, Chapter 60 has given in detail the importance of Kartik Month in respect to Pancha Nada Teerth. Lord Visweshwar himself regularly takes bath in this Teerth during Kartik Month.

(BINDU MADHAV)

Lord Vishnu further stated that he (Lord) was called as Aadi Madhav in Sat Yug, he should be worshipped as Ananda Madhav in Tretha Yug, he would present himself in Dwapar Yug as Shree Madhav. In Kali Yug the Lord should be known by the name of Bindu Madhav.

Agni Bindu Rishi was extremely happy at the direct worship of Lord Vishnu and he prostrated before the Lord.

A person worshipping Prayag Madhav will be cleansed of all his sins.

Kashi Khand has attached a great importance to bathing in Prayag Teerth. Prayag Teerth, as such, is not in existence but this falls within the larger area of Dasaswamedh.

One point needs to be mentioned here to make things clear. At the time when Skanda Puran was conceived by Bhagwan Ved Vyas and when the Puran was actually written, there were only five bathing places in Ganga at Varanasi, which had a great religious importance, namely Assi, Dasaswamedh, Manikarnika, Panchganga and Varuna. Even today, South Indian pilgrims who visit Varanasi, for their Kashi Yatra, perform Shraddha Karma at the above five Ghats. Over a period of several centuries, many Ghats have come up in the name of many Kings or the Royal families, etc. Religiously speaking, Dasaswamedh extends to a very wide area in the river Ganga and may include several new Ghats in its fold.

Therefore, Prayag Teerth as mentioned in Kashi Khand is a part of Dasaswamedh. Devotees may consider both as synonymous. Great importance has been attached to taking bath in the above Teerth in Magh Month and worshipping Prayag Madhav. Persons doing so, will be blessed with wealth, food grains, happy family and will attain Moksha.

LOCATION OF PRAYAG MADHAV

Prayag Madhav is located at D.17/111, in the premises of Ram Mandir at Dasaswamedh Ghat. Some people also call it Dharani Varaha (Ref: Varanasi Vaibhav by Pt. Kuber Nath Sukul). Devotees can travel upto Dasaswamedh Ghat in a rickshaw.

TYPES OF POOJA

(Lord Vishnu states: "I am present in the form of Kokavarah at the holy Koka Teerth in Kashi. A devotee who bathes in this teerth and has my darshan will never fall into distress or hellish torment.")

Shri Kokavarah is an ancient and rare Puranic manifestation of Lord Vishnu in his boar (Varaha) avatar. In Chapter 61 of the Kashi Khand (Skanda Purana), Lord Vishnu recounts to Sage Bindu the principal forms in which he established his eternal presence across Varanasi.

Lord Vishnu declares that at Koka Teerth, he resides in the form of Kokavarah to dispel cosmic darkness, break the bonds of worldly entrapment (Samsara Bandhana), and preserve pilgrims from every kind of spiritual or physical distress.

According to traditional Kashi pilgrimage scriptures, bathing at the sacred riverfront associated with Koka Teerth and performing arghya and pranam to Kokavarah cleanses all ancestral debts and secures the divine protection of the preserver deity.

Pilgrims visiting the sacred Panchganga and Rajghat sectors pay homage to Kokavarah as the primordial defender against negative astral forces.

Kashi Khand, Chapter 61, Shlok 19
धरणीं समुद्धरन्पूर्वं वाराहेण वपुष्मता ।
धरणीधारको विष्णुरिह तिष्ठति सर्वदा ॥

("The supreme Lord Vishnu who lifted Mother Earth (Dharani) from the cosmic abyss upon his mighty tusk resides eternally in Kashi as Dharanivarah, sustaining all living beings.")

Shri Dharanivarah is the definitive and celebrated cosmic form of Lord Vishnu who rescued and stabilized Mother Earth (Bhudevi / Dharani) during the cosmic cataclysm. When the demon Hiranyaksha dragged the earth into the primordial cosmic waters (Rasatala), Lord Vishnu assumed the gigantic, radiant form of the divine boar, vanquished the demon, and elevated the globe safely upon his tusk.

In Chapter 61 of the Kashi Khand, Lord Vishnu establishes that in Varanasi, he presides as Dharanivarah to bestow stability, firmness of character, agricultural abundance, and freedom from real-estate and planetary afflictions to his devotees.

Worshipping Dharanivarah at Varanasi connects the devotee to the foundational cosmic energy that stabilizes the earth itself, granting fearlessness and immense inner fortitude.

Devotees traditionally offer chandan (sandalwood paste), tulsi leaves, and yellow flowers to Dharanivarah while reciting the sacred Varaha Gayatri mantra.

LOCATION OF TRIBHUWAN KESHAV

Tribhuwan Keshav is located at D.17/100, Bandi Devi, Dasaswamedh Ghat. Just before the Ghat, devotees should take a right turn. It is advisable to enquire at the vegetable market just before the Ghat. The temple priest calls this deity by the name of Dharani Varaha. There is some confusion as some learned Pundits claim that Dharani Varaha is located at D.17/111, Ram Mandir and they give the name of Prayag Madhav for this.

Kashi Khand mentions South Kashi. If we take the Mukti Kshetra of Kashi as per Kashi Khand, Madhyameshwar is the mid point and Dasaswamedh Ghat falls to the South. However, in the present day scenario Dasaswamedh is the center point for various religious and cultural activities.

There is also a Shiv Ling in the temple premises which was called Prayageshwar by the Poojari.

TYPES OF POOJA

The Sacred Pancha Madhav Yatra & 1-Day Vaishnava Darshan Circuit in Varanasi

1. The Sacred Pancha Madhav Pilgrimage of Kashi

In Vedic tradition, performing the Pancha Madhav Yatra in Varanasi cleanses the devotee of all cardinal sins and bestows the combined merit of Prayagraj, Vaikuntha, and Badrikashrama:

#	Madhav Sanctum	Locality / Approach	Pilgrimage Significance
1	Shri Bindu Madhav	Panchganga Ghat (K-22/37)	Supreme central protector of Kashi; sacred bath in five holy rivers.
2	Shri Prayag Madhav	Dashashwamedh Ghat (D-17/111)	Connects Kashi to Triveni Sangam of Prayagraj; absolves ancestral debts.
3	Shri Vaikunth Madhav	Near Scindia Ghat (Ck. 7/163)	Earthly reflection of Vaikuntha; bestows eternal freedom from rebirth.
4	Shri Shwet Madhav	Near Vishwanath Corridor / Kalika Galli	Radiant white form; bestows supreme mental serenity and spiritual purity.
5	Shri Gyan Madhav	Chowk / Gyanvapi Sector	Lord of spiritual illumination and divine philosophical realization.

2. Sacred Offerings and Vaishnava Darshan Guidelines

- Holy Tulsi Leaves: Tulsi (sacred holy basil) is the life-breath of Lord Vishnu. No offering or arghya to Vishnu, Keshav, or Madhav is complete without fresh green Tulsi manjaris and leaves.
- Sacred Offerings: Yellow pitambari cloth, yellow chandan (sandalwood paste), fresh white and yellow flowers (Lotus, Marigold, Jasmine), Makhan-Mishri (fresh butter with sugar crystals), and Panchamrit.
- Auspicious Days: All Ekadashis (especially Prabodhini and Nirjala Ekadashi), Vaikuntha Chaturdashi, and the holy month of Kartika (when daily bathing at Panchganga and darshan of Bindu Madhav confers infinite blessings).
- Narasimha Worship: Tuesdays and Saturdays, as well as Narasimha Jayanti (Vaishakha Shukla Chaturdashi), are especially auspicious for worshipping Prachand, Atyugra, Vidar, and Vitank Narasimha to overcome legal disputes, illness, and fears.
